SUMMARY

Full Stack Developer with 2 years of professional experience building production applications for companies in France, including XPENG, and Computer Engineering student specializing in Data Science at TEK-UP University. Seeking a 6-month Data Science internship, ideally leading to a full-time position, to apply data preprocessing, model training and evaluation in a professional environment. Available from mid-December 2026 and open to relocation (France, international). Quick to learn new technologies and to take unfamiliar technical problems from research to a working solution.
